"Wonderful place!!! I cannot say enough about how great it is! It is a very warm and welcoming community, including the employees and the residents." - Sheila Kocan

"It has been a good move for us. There are plenty of activities to keep you busy. You can take part in as many as you like. Springhill is a very active retirement community. The residents are very friendly and helpful." - William Robson

"Why did we choose Springhill? After we were shown an apartment, we realized it was just the right size and met all our 'requirements.' The friendliness of the residents and associates, the full-time security, on-staff nurses, planned activities, a chaplain and beautifully kept grounds were added bonuses. Our choice of Springhill, home for 9 years now, was one we never regretted, and I know I will be happy here for the rest of my days." - Pam Urso

"My wife, Sue, knew Springhill very well since her mom and aunt both lived there. So, when my mom was ready for a move, we easily recommended Springhill. Mom's reward was a new home, a very social environment, and the best caregiving staff ever assembled. Our reward was knowing that mom was happy, that she had a whole new and active environment with friends and knowing that she would be held in good care for the rest of her life."

- Don Cameron

"The campus is beautiful. It is covered with trees, luxurious grass, and a beautiful pond with a gazebo. There are walking trails, putting and chipping greens, a bocce court and a fabulous fire pit."

- Marlene Schreiber

"By moving to Springhill, you will know that your living space offers you extremely pleasant surroundings and that the fellowship you have with other residents will fill your days with interesting activities. Do you have hobbies that have meant a great deal to you? If so, you will find numerous residents who share your passion. The biggest decision you may make is when to move to Springhill. I urge you to do so now. The sooner you move here, the sooner you will begin to experience all that Springhill has to offer."

"My certified therapy dog, Molly, and I have lived at Springhill for almost six years. I have NEVER met an associate who was not friendly and willing to assist me...the two of us enjoy going on 'sniffaris' around the beautiful campus and have made friends with some of the wildlife...there are social events... and 'field trips' to enjoy the many dining and cultural amenities of Erie."

- Robert Marks

"It is more than a community. It is now our extended family. A place where we know we are safe. We are a diverse group of residents who share the joy of experiencing Springhill's way of life."

- Elizabeth Sotus

"After seeing Springhill several times, I realized this is not your old retirement home, it is your new beginning. A life here is full of energy. Our pool, corn hole, bocce, the trails to walk, grocery shopping, doctor appointments transportation, a supervised gym, dining, and dining delivery. It's a resort! Most and not least are friendships to be made. A new lease on life!"
